Dear friends and Colleagues

The well-awaited SFESSE VII Conference is finally materialised. After the big success of previous SFESSE conferences, this event is aiming to offer another unique opportunity for professionals to come together and to share common experiences and best practices in a high quality forum. An impressive team of speakers from Cyprus and Europe secures an extremely interesting gathering.

The new challenges in the field of Safety & Health as derived from new era of the Natural Gas developments in Cyprus will be addressed in an attempt to make the conference a practical tool in managing the contemporary problems and therefore an opportunity not to be missed.

SFESSE VII will:

- update you on current thinking in the fields of occupational safety & health,
- offer outstanding opportunities to network with fellow professionals
- enable you to discuss and exchange information on the challenges and opportunities arising out of the conference themes

For further details about the event, please contact:-
